

Save 10% off EPD registrations with new CaGBC member benefit

The CaGBC and CSA Group, a leading global provider of standards development and testing and certification services, have formed an alliance to support Environmental Product Declarations (EPDs).

The CSA Group is pleased to provide ALL CaGBC national members with a 10 per cent discount off the registration of Environmental Product Declarations through their EPD Program.

- EPDs are an important part of the life cycle assessment of a building and play an important role in LEED v4. Supporting the industry in understanding and adopting product transparency and preparing assessments will help ensure more sustainable building practices now and into the future.
- Consumers are looking to manufacturers and service providers to provide objective, verifiable environmental information for their products or services in order to help them make direct comparisons with competing products. EPDs are one way that this information can be communicated over a product's life cycle.
- EPDs showcase the sustainability of your product to customers in your supply chain. They are easily-understood public statements of your products' environmental impact providing valuable information so buyers can make informed decisions

Simply visit the CSA EPD Program page and follow the registration process. Be sure to identify yourself as a CaGBC member to receive your 10 per cent discount.
